DESCRIPTIVE TEST

1. Read the passage carefully and answer the question below in your words.

Old people say that childhood is the best part of life. They look back at their childhood and remember all its happy days, the jolly games, the fun they had at school, jokes they used to play and the endless discussion they had among friends on almost every topics. Perhaps these old folks are right. And yet they forgot many things that were not so pleasant in their childhood. There is a funny story that tells of a boy who was crying because of he had to go back to school after the holidays and the father scolded him and said, "why I only wish I could be a boy and go to school again. "And all in a moment the father became a little boy and his son was a grown up man like his father. And the father, in the shape of a little boy had to go to school, and I can tell you he did not like it at all. A child's troubles may seem to grown-ups but they are very big to him.

|-----|--|
| (i) | Corruption is one form of another, is a world wide phenomenon. But everyone admits that corruption is something ugly, immoral and detestable. Unfortunately in our country, corruption has become a part of life. It has entered the very roots of the Indian society Corruption, nepotism and dishonesty have tarnished every fabric of our social life. Our ministers are corrupt; our officers are corrupt; our people are corrupt. Every politician, without exception, is corrupt. Even our anti-corruption departments fall an easy prey to the vales of the corrupt persons and they let them go scot free after minor punishment. The law of a land is too weak to deal with the corrupt elements with an iron hand. The vested interests rule the roost some people have even started talking of the nationalization of corruption in the country. They argue that we should frankly admit that we are a corrupt nation and that we cannot do without it. |
|-----|--|

It is a matter of shame and regret for all those who care to hear the call of their conscience. One feels like crying out with Shakespeare.

"O that estate degrees and offices were not derived corruptly by the merit of the wearer! Corruption is prevailing at all levels-economic, social, administrative, moral and spiritual. During the past few years, the images of the country have been defaced beyond redemption. A large number of scams, involving top political leaders, administrators and VVIPs have come to light. These scams, most of them unearthed by the Central Bureau of Investigation, involve huge sums running into thousands of crores. They have shaken the entire conscience of the country to the bones. The law enforcing agencies are seeking the help of the judicial process to bring the culprits to book. The judicial system however, is full of flaws and the culprits do not find it very difficult to cleverly escape the legal net. The skeletons in a large number of cupboard are however, coming out and many mighty ministers, political leaders and bureaucrats are being exposed. Law might take decades to assert but it has been fully established that we are a nation full of corrupt elements. Strongholds of corruption are the departments like the P.W.D Tele-communication, Banks, department dealing with exports and imports, taxes, quota-permits and licences. Documents and office files do not move unless we grease the palm of the concerned officials. One cannot get the official copy of court judgment from the copying agency in a court unless one pays a fat sum to the agency typist in addition to the official court fee. One can get one's seat in a train booked easily if one is prepared to pay an extra trip to booking clerk. An honest man's application is subjected to delay by red-tapism. Corruption in administrative offices has reached the saturation point. Banks, too are, free from corruption. People are beginning to take corruption for granted. Root cause of corruption is red tape or delay. Persons found guilty be punished severely. Exemplary punishments should be given officials, national character should be improved. Smugglers, black marketeers and hoarders should be severely dealt with.

Social and spiritual organizations can give a good healthy education to the public. Strong boards like the U.P.S.C. Should be organized to deal with anti social elements. Persons of strong character should be employed. The Government employees must be told to withstand temptation while discharging their duties. Such officials as lay down noble standards of honesty and efficiency, should be encouraged and honoured at public functions. Dishonest public servants should not only be dismissed, but should also be publicly flogged. An education system of the country should be re-oriented inculcate a spirit of honesty amongst the people. All ministers and public servants should be made to declare their Assets. The vigilance department should keep a constant eye on the corrupt officers and other public servants. Ministers and senior officials must set noble examples of an honest living free from corruption, bribery, nepotism and immorality. The law of the land should be provided with more teeth to deal with the corrupt elements. Corruption, at any level, is bad. Government should launch a vigorous campaign against this social evil. Charity, however, must begin at home. Evils, it is said, percolate in any society from the top. The topmost people in the country must present model examples of conduct and behaviour. They should be completely above board in their dealings and should be honest to a fault. One must not only be honest but one must also be above doubt. Once we are able to curb. Corruption nepotism a bribery in high places, we shall be soon able to root out the evil corruption from the entire society: May God help us in our object.

(ii) A Picnic party. :-

A picnic is an outing during which is a meal taken out of doors. It is very charming. It brings a change in our dull and mechanical life. It is pleasant to take part in a picnic. Our life is full of cares and anxieties. When we join a picnic we forget our cares for some time. When we are fed up with the monotony of our everyday life. Organize a picnic. The purpose of a picnic is merry-making. So, a programme of music is an essential feature of a picnic. It is necessary to make preparation for a picnic. Several persons take part in a picnic. Every member of the picnic has to do something. Co-operation is necessary for the success of a picnic. At first the members of a picnic party have to collect some money. They select the site for the picnic. They decide how they will prepare the food. They collect the necessary things. On the fixed day they go out for the picnic. They take all the necessary things with themselves. A picnic gives great pleasure. It makes us happy. It breaks the monotony of our everyday life. It refreshes our mind. It makes us forget our sorrows and anxieties. So a picnic is very pleasant. The picnic was very delightful. I wish I would enjoy such a picnic again.

(iii) Honesty is the best policy:-

Honesty is one of the greatest virtues of man. It is very useful in human life. It makes the life of a man happy and successful. Honest man wins success and is admired by all. Honesty is the greatest source of strength. A man who has nothing to fear and nothing to be ashamed of. Honesty is the greatest weapon. An honest man may not get success in the beginning, but in the long run, his honesty brings name and fame. The success of a dishonest man in his failure, because in future nobody will trust him. So, honesty should be the principle of our life. We should adopt honesty as a firm policy in our daily life. We must not cheat others. We should deal honestly with others. An honest man commands respect. He is trusted by all. A dishonest man does not have peace of mind. He is despised by all. So, Honesty is preferable to dishonesty.

(iv) My Best Friend:-

Man is a social being. He wants company. He likes to live with others. He wants to share his joys and sorrows with his friends and companions. I have a number of friends I love and respect them. Most of my friends are very noble.

Amrisha is my best friend. I love him the most. I call him my very best friend on account of his great qualities. He is always ready to sacrifice his all for my sake. He is my sharer in joys and sorrows. He is more than even a real brother to me.

Amrisha is the son of a teacher. His mother is also a teacher. Both of them are very noble. Amrisha has two brothers and one sister. Their domestic life is very happy. They love and respect one another. Their father and mother are not dictators. They never abuse and beat their children. They treat them with love.

Amrisha is a very bold and brave. He has a strong physique. Once, he saved a child from drowning in the Jamuna. I am really proud of such a friend. Amrisha spends most of his time with me. We are class-fellows. We sit at the same desk. We do our home-work together. Both of us play football.

Early in the morning. Amrish calls at my house. Then, we go out on a walk to the nearby garden in this company of two more friends. There, we run and take exercise. In the way. Our common morning programme has been going on for the last many years.

We go to school together. There is a healthy competition between us. Amrish is at home in English. He helps in my English lessons. I am quite good at Mathematics. Amrish gets my help in Arithmetic and Algebra. In The examination, he is generally at the top.

We have never quarrelled with each other. Once a naughty boy tried to create trouble. He was in the habit of back-biting. He told Amrish that I had abused him. It was white lie. We soon saw through his mischief good beating and taught him a lesson. He promised to give up the habit of back. Biting.

Infact, we have two bodies but one should. We feel that no power on earth can separate us. Our friendship is like that of Krishna and Sudama. my our friendship grow stronger and stronger day by day.

- (iv) What are the village people like?
- (v) What did Radha do as a result for feeling hurt?
- (vi) Why the tree was called unkind?
- (vii) What made the banker weep?
- (viii) Who was Mr Gassler? How did the author know him?

Solution 8:

- (i) Yes I have a pet bird that is parrot.it is charming bird. Early in the morning it calls out my name when it see me to go out of my house it make a heavy cry like “tar-tar” when I return from my school \,its greet me by twitting and imitating my name. He asks food by saying Katore Katore. I give it something to eat. It is very pretty.
- (ii) The most dominant influences on Indian films is that of the American cinema. Stories have been also written by based in Hollywood pattern. Even where has been genuinely Indian. The background music is revealed an irrepressible ornament which hang down for Negros. These are the bad quality of Indian films.
- (iii) Arise Says about the fight going on Rangoon was very harmful. There are many peoples and animals are vanished. There are many things destroyed in the fight. Hence we cosy that the fight to Rangoon is very dangerous.
- (iv) Groves perform number of function in the village. Groves makes our environment pollution free. We can breathe pure oxygen. They groves we can able to see digger types of animals in there nature habitat. Hence we can say that village people like more groves of plants.

- (v) The friends report and say that you asks her one thing. She speaks another. She is growing thinner and thinner day by day.so it is very much apparent that Radha's condition is not well both physically and mentally.
